

CONGRESS

Begins Business at the Old Stand Monday in Washington

HOUSE IS DULY ORGANIZED

PANAMA CANAL LEGISLATION LIKELY THIS WEEK

President's Message to be Read Tuesday—Short Sessions are Held Monday.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The hero worshippers were in their glory today. They crowded the galleries at the capitol and saw the nation's big men prancing about seemingly just for their entertainment. It was the opening of Congress, Washington's great annual show.

Promptly at noon today the Fifty-Ninth Congress was called to order. Vice President Fairbanks wielded the gavel in the Senate. Clark McDowell of the last House, performed that duty in the House. Henry N. Coudon, the blind chaplain, offered prayer for the safety of the members and guidance in their duties. "Clean us of our national sins," said he. He prayed for the President and his advisors, asking the divine blessing upon those directing the nation's course.

Miss Alice Roosevelt was in the executive gallery and shared with members on the floor the attention of the interested spectators in the crowded galleries.

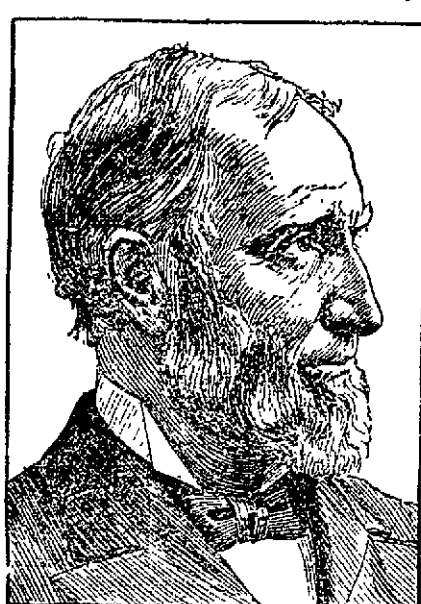

The Senate adjourned in respect to the memory of the late Senator Platt of Connecticut. In the Senate the galleries were also crowded. There was not a ripple as the senators filled the chamber. Rev. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain, invoked divine guidance for the senators for the discharge of their duty, gave thanks that there was peace among nations and hoped that the need of men to study war was no more.

The exhibits were varied and interesting. On the Senate side was the tall, angular, smooth-topped statesman from the Wash, Vice President Fairbanks in the presiding officer's chair; Spooner, little giant from Wisconsin, rough and tumble debater, wreathed in smiles, due to the absence perhaps, of his deadly political rival, La Follette, who did not see his way clear to abandon the gubernatorial reins at home to be sworn in as a senator; Blackburn, more interesting figure than ever because of the fight that is being waged against him in Kentucky by the adherents of the old Goebel faction, who want Judge Paynter to succeed him; Platt and Dewey, of New York, still in the ring, despite the rumors of their impending resignations; Elkins of West Virginia, putative father of the anti-rebate law, amendments to which seem now to be the order of the day; Foraker, of Ohio, leader of the anti-administration forces in the railroad rate war; Gorman, Maryland boss, and Rayner, now member from that state, who got there in the face of his colleague's opposition; Knox of Pennsylvania, former attorney general; Lodge of Massachusetts, the President's great and good friend; Smoot, Mormon apostle, who has been under fire ever since he landed in the Senate and who rather seems to enjoy it; Tillman, South Carolina fire eater; Carter, of Montana, who returns after several years of retirement. There were two men for whom the public looked in vain—Burton of Kansas, and Mitchell of Oregon.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Besides organization very little will be done by the house of representatives the first week of the session, although it is possible that an emergency appropriation for the Panama canal may be passed the last of this week. Until the committees are appointed such a bill would have to be considered by unanimous consent or under a special order. It will depend upon the needs of the canal finances whether the emergency appropriation will be rushed through this week or go over until the week following. The leaders of the house have been informed that the emergency appropriation will not be needed until Dec. 15, and consequently the bill may not be passed until next week. Monday was taken up with the election of a speaker and other house officers. Hon. Joseph G. Cannon (Rep., Ill.) was elected speaker over John Sharp Williams (Dem., Miss.) The biennial lottery for seats was an interesting occasion on the first day, and with its conclusion the adjournment followed. Tuesday will be devoted to the president's message, and that will probably close the real business of the house for the week.

Preliminary work engrosses the attention of the senate the first week of the session. The senate is already organized, as it is a continuous body, and besides there was a special session last spring, when the new senators were sworn in. Senators Brundage of Connecticut, Warner of Missouri, Frazier of Tennessee and La Follette of Wisconsin have not yet taken their oaths. The two former had not been elected when the special session adjourned. Monday was a very short session, the senate adjourning out of respect for the late Senator Platt of Connecticut. Tuesday the president's message will be received and read, and Wednesday is likely to be devoted to the introduction of bills. A short session will be held Thursday and the senate will then adjourn until the following Monday.

CIVIL SERVICE

Twenty-Second Annual Report of the Commission is Filed—171,807 Positions.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The twenty-second annual report of the United States civil service commission contains a recommendation that congress should authorize the collection of a fee from applicants for examination for the government service. Should this authority be given, the report states that the commission will issue a manual giving such detailed information regarding the examinations as will make it unnecessary for the more intelligent applicants to make special preparation for the examination in some civil service school or institute. The amount of the fee, it is suggested, should be a small one. It is stated that 150,000 persons were examined last year, 40,000 of whom secured positions. There are 171,807 competitive positions.

Internal Revenue.
Washington, Dec. 4.—The annual report of Commissioner John W. Yerkes of the internal revenue bureau, treasury department, shows that the receipts for the year ending June 30, 1905, were $234,178,976, an excess of $1,284,195 over the collections for the fiscal year of 1904. Using as a basis the collections for the first three months of the current fiscal year, the commissioner estimates that the receipts from all internal revenue sources for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, will aggregate $242,000,000, or nearly $8,000,000 in excess of those for the last fiscal year. For the last fiscal year there was collected from the tax on distilled spirits $129,512,628; on fermented liquors, $49,459,539; on tobacco, $46,581,910.

WOMAN STILL HOLDS FORT IN COACH

Now Settled Down To Game of "Freeze-out" As She Refuses To Surrender.

Girard, Kan., Dec. 4.—The alleged insane woman, supposed to be Anna Berry, who barricaded herself in a Frisco passenger coach, Saturday, which is side tracked here, still held the fort this morning. Four men entered the coach at 7 a. m. and tried to persuade the woman to surrender. She refused to open the door to the chamber in which she has taken refuge, pointed a revolver at the officers when they approached too closely and refused to accept their offers to build a fire. The greatest concession she made was to allow them to stuff up the broken windows with pillows. The woman looked weary and worn this morning. The closest clue to her identity is furnished by her photograph taken at Spokane and letters. The officers are loath to use forcible measures against the woman and after this morning's conference, settled down to a game of "freeze-out."

JAP EXPENDITURES.

London, Dec. 4.—A dispatch to the Telegraph from Tokyo says it is estimated that the total Japanese expenditure for 1905, will amount to $315,000,000 of which $400,000,000 is the increase necessary as the outcome of the war.

GOVERNOR BELL

Tells Why He Refuses to Save Life of Mrs. Mary Rogers

WOMAN WILL HANG ON FRIDAY

FOR VERY BRUTAL MURDER OF HER HUSBAND IN VERMONT

Preparation for Execution About Com- pleted—Officers Talk of the Young Woman's Fate.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Governor Charles J. Bell of Vermont, this morning announced that so far as any interference by him as chief executive of the state is concerned the "end in Mrs. Rogers' case is near." He reiterated to many inquirers that he is determined not to interfere and unless there is a complete reversal of his opinion the woman will suffer the extreme penalty at the appointed hour. Governor Bell said:

"I am in favor of permitting the laws of Vermont to take their uninterrupted course. Mrs. Rogers has been sentenced and there is no reason why I should obstruct the regular course of the law. When a court and jury have decided after a careful hearing of all the evidence against an accused person that the death penalty should be inflicted, the executive of a state ought not to set aside the verdict unless there is some good reason for so doing. There is no such reason in this case. The crime was a particularly atrocious one. The woman had a half-witted lover and a husband. It was desired that she get rid of the husband. The only method suggested to her depraved mind by its own instincts was murder. She planned the murder and managed its commission. Her lover was her tool. In order to consummate her plan it was necessary that she take advantage of her husband's confidence in her to render him helpless against the attacks of herself and her lover. This she did. No doubt the murdered man had ample opportunity to plead for his life. Did his executioners give it to him? After the woman's conviction, there was some sentimentality worked up by certain newspapers and this created sympathy for the woman. That sympathy was destroyed by a further proof of her natural depravity, while in prison. Under the laws the Vermont legislature may commute a sentence in a capital case to life imprisonment. Our legislature, by a majority of 3 to 1, was opposed to such action. I granted the first reprieve to give the woman every opportunity to prove her innocence. Her attorneys said they would produce new evidence. They have not done so, and there is no reason why the law should not take its course."

Governor Bell said he would return to Vermont immediately after the banquet he is here to attend and would probably be in that state at the hour of the execution. He denied a rumor that Mrs. Rogers' execution would cause the death of two human beings, a fact said to have been ascertained by the prison surgeon recently.

Windsor, Vt. Dec. 4.—Preparations for the execution of Mrs. Mary Rogers on December 8 continue. Sheriff Peck says: "The death sentence will be carried out according to law Friday. I will be in charge of the execution and as sheriff will see that Mrs. Rogers is executed as the laws and interests of Vermont justice decree. I will not say whose hand shall spring the drop. The execution will take place next Friday about one o'clock."

Attorney General Clark Fitts says: "There is no longer any hope for Mrs. Rogers. Her lawyers have tried every expedient to save her. They have taken advantage of every legitimate means. I know of no conceivable way in which her doom may be averted. No further protest can be of any avail."

In alternate hope and despair, rational moments and hours of weeping, Mrs. Rogers, aged 22, waits the call of death. Last night, when a message of sympathy was sent to her, offering aid, she sent this word in return: "Thank you, all that you can do is to pray for my soul when I am dead."

Mrs. Callahan and Kate, mother and sister of the condemned woman, are still in town, although it is probable that the visit to the murderers Saturday will be the last and that a painful interview, with its embrace consecrated the farewell. "Give my love to the children," was Mrs. Rogers' goodbye. After her relatives departed she gave way to violent expression of grief. The prison matron, who has studied her, said today: "She acts as if motherhood is advancing, and I would not be surprised if this is so." Father Delany has visited the woman. "Pray for me! Oh, pray for me!" she begged him.

A BOAT SINKS NEAR PITTSBURG

ALL STREAMS BANK FULL AS A RESULT OF RECENT HEAVY RAINS.

Federal Government Issues Warning in Time to Prevent Very Heavy Losses.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—The steamer Twilight sank in 20 feet of water at Lock No. 2, in the Monongahela river, the crew of 12 men escaping with their lives by hurrying to the roof of the boat and then being taken off in skiffs. The accident is rare in the annals of river men. With a tow of six loaded flats the Twilight was coming into the harbor. Lock No. 2 is new and the guide wall for boats has not been erected, and the current of the rising Monongahela was too much for the power of the Twilight's wheel and the steamer and tow were swung toward the dam before she could be fastened.

Pittsburg and vicinity is threatened with a small-sized flood. The Ohio river at Davis Island dam is 22 feet and rising. At the Sixth street bridge the Allegheny registered 24 feet, and rising at the rate of three inches an hour. The Monongahela has about reached its height, though it is still rising slowly. The rainfall during the past 24 hours was 1.45 inches along the Allegheny valley and 1.81 along the Monongahela.

The waters at Pittsburg are creeping up into the lowlands and already a portion of the Pittsburg and Western railroad tracks are submerged. Timely warning, however, by the government weather bureau, enabled all interested to prepare, and the losses will be comparatively small.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—After reaching the height of 24 feet the turbulent waters swelling the banks of the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers, quieted some today, and all fears of a flood in Pittsburg and Allegheny have been allayed. The cold weather has checked the flow of the smaller streams into the big rivers and merchants within the high water lines are jubilant today. At 7 o'clock this morning the rivers began slowly receding. No apprehension is now felt.

BY IRISH SOCIETIES

President of Gaelic League is Wel- comed at Boston—A Cordial Reception.

Boston, Dec. 4.—Large delegations from nearly all the Irish societies in Boston extended a cordial welcome to Dr. Douglas Hyde, president of the Gaelic league of Ireland, at the Boston theater, when he spoke in behalf of the Gaelic revival. Dr. Hyde prefaced his remarks by reviewing the progress of the revival and the support which he had received from many well-known personages, including President Roosevelt. He then took up the history of the ancient Irish language and aroused enthusiasm by his recitations of Gaelic prose and poetry.

SAID "GOOD-BY"

Shook Father's Hand and Then Fired Bullet Into His Heart—Made Good His Threat.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 4.—"Good-by, father, I am going to shoot myself," said Virgil Russell as he lay in bed. He reached out his left hand as he spoke, and immediately after his father had shaken it, with his right hand concealed under the cover he pulled the trigger of his revolver and sent a bullet through his heart. The suicide, who was 25 years old, lived with his father and mother in West Charleston. He was suspended from the police force a few weeks ago, since which time he was despondent and drank considerably.

BECAME INSANE OVER A BATH, FIRST HE HAD IN 5 YEARS

Cleveland, Dec. 4.—Daglas * Isnatz, arrested in Wade Park * in October for a robbery, and * sentenced to the workhouse, * has become insane because he * was given a bath the first he * had had in five years, according * to his own confession. He be- * came insane after the bath and * his condition has grown worse. * Sunday he was placed in a padded cell.

BELIEF GROWS

That Russia Can Only Be Saved by Abdication of the Czar

WITTE DOWNFALL PREDICTED

MUTINY OF RUSSIAN TROOPS AT MANY POINTS IN EMPIRE

Direct Communication With St. Peters- burg by Cable Still Cut Off— Situation Desperate.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 4.—Via Eydtkuhnen, East Prussia, Dec. 4.—The situation here continues serious. The belief is growing, even among many of the moderates that the only way in which the country can be saved from complete mob rule is through the practical abdication of the czar and the appointment of a triumvirate dictatorship composed of Grand Duke Nicholas, General Trepoft and Count Ignatieff, who shall hold the ruling power until order has been fully restored. The mass of the population undoubtedly would welcome anything which would restore quiet to the country. The strikes have affected every one adversely and the people are tired of the situation. It is impossible for anyone to walk through the streets, except the principal thoroughfares, without risk of being held up by roughs.

Count Witte's method of governing is condemned everywhere and the prediction is freely offered that his fall will come before the end of the year.

RUSSIAN TROOPS MUTINY.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Dispatches received today from St. Petersburg state that mutinies of the troops have occurred at Warsaw, Kursk, Minsk, Saratoff, Kherson, Novgorod, Grodno and Kharkoff. The results of the mutinies are not given.

BARRACKS ATTACKED

Thousand Mutineers Engage a Divi- sion of Loyal Troops—Bloody Battle at Kiev.

London, Dec. 4.—The Daily Mail's Kiev correspondent, in a dispatch dated Dec. 2, says: "Early yesterday morning a company of sappers, dissatisfied with their martinet commander, mutinied and persuaded a second company to join them. They left the fortress fully armed and by threats compelled the remainder of the sappers' battalion to join them. Numbering 1,000, the mutineers marched to the barracks of the artillery division and Azoof infantry regiment. The Azoof men answered their appeal with insults and the rebels opened fire upon them. The Azoofs answered with three volleys. A portion of the mutineers fled, but the others continued firing. The Azoofs replied with deadly volleys and finally the rebels fled headlong, throwing down their arms. Two hundred of them surrendered and were conveyed to their barracks by Cossacks. Fifty dead and 100 wounded mutineers were left on the ground."

A dispatch from St. Petersburg dated Dec. 2, says: "Alarm prevails here. Communication with the outer world by telegraph ceased this morning when the Finnish operators joined their Russian comrades. The embassies, legations and banks are hastily organizing courier services to both the Finnish and German frontiers. The population is almost in a state of panic, fearing that the railways will stop running and that the inhabitants therefore will have no mode of flight in the event of the cataclysm which they seem to fear is imminent. Stories of the spread of disaffection in the guard regiments are in every body's mouth, and the revolutionaries continue to boast that the troops will no longer fire on the people. The air is filled with stories of the alleged revolution at the palace Friday in which Grand Duke Boris is said to have attempted the life of the emperor. These stories likewise are untrue, but they prove that a revolution in the palace is considered possible at any time. This situation has greatly increased the dangers of a financial crash. The people even the commercial interests, are withdrawing their money from the banks, converting it into gold hoarding it or demanding for an exchange, which the state bank is unable upon the foreign balance of the government. Exchange on London Friday rose to 92.9, over a month above the normal rate. There has been some street fighting at Kiev between mutineers and Cossacks and between Cossacks and Cossacks and between Cossacks and Cossacks."

men and bands of the "Black Hundred." Scores of persons have been killed or wounded. Martial law has been proclaimed.

IN OPEN MUTINY

Are Troops in Baltic Provinces. General Strike.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 2, via Berlin, Dec. 4.—The situation in Baltic provinces has grown exceedingly grave, and the troops at Riga and neighborhood are in open mutiny. This was the real cause of the extraordinary cabinet meeting which was held at Tsarskoe Selo Friday.

The striking telegraphists declare they have ample funds and that they will not yield, even at the risk of dismissal. Telegraph officials on the railroads refuse to forward government or private dispatches, but are willing for the present to send and receive telegrams relating to the railroad service.

Count Witte continues to refuse to deal with the telegraphists, declaring that for the government to yield would be equivalent to its abdication at their order. Nevertheless the surrender of the government to their demand for the dismissal of M. Duranovo, acting minister of the interior, is regarded as inevitable.

It is expected that a railway strike will be declared either Sunday or Monday. The latter is a holiday, which fact will enable the workmen to meet and decide on a common plan of action.

The reactionary influences at court and the imperial guard are making desperate efforts to unhorse Count Witte, to proclaim a dictatorship and to fight the revolution with bullets and bayonets. Their candidates for dictator are General Count Alexei Ignatieff and General Skalon, governor general of Poland.

Prohibits Processions.

Warsaw, Dec. 4.—Governor General Skalon has issued a proclamation prohibiting street processions or meetings and the carrying of arms or heavy sticks, and ordering shops and houses closed on demand by the police under the penalty of a fine of $250 and three months' imprisonment for disobedience. The workmen in the factories threaten to strike in support of the eight-hour day movement. The local unions have sent delegates to St. Petersburg to attend the congress of the Union of Unions.

Revolutionary Manifesto.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The correspondent of the Journal at St. Petersburg sends the text of a further revolutionary manifesto issued Sunday in reply to the expressed intention of the government to return to repressive measures. The manifesto says: "The government continues to defy a people on the road to liberty where nothing can stop it. All police measures and the armed intervention of troops can only result in sanguinary conflicts, for which the government will be responsible."

DISARMAMENT

Of Warships Ordered by the Russian Government.

Paris, Dec. 4.—Undated dispatches from St. Petersburg, arriving by way of Eydtkuhnen, East Prussia, give the following information: There is the greatest excitement among the sailors and the authorities have ordered the disarmament of the warships. The officers, fearing a mutiny, acceded to the demand of the sailors for the release of a workman who was arrested while distributing revolutionary proclamations. Soldiers and sailors are driving about the streets creating disturbances. Many quarters of the city are dangerous after nightfall owing to an increase in the number of unruly characters. The military authorities are preparing repressive measures. Heavy forces of artillery are arriving at the capital, causing a panic among the population.

FRESH MASSACRES

Anticipated by Jews at Odessa. Fear the Troops.

Odessa, (By special courier by way of Podwoloczyska, Galicia Dec. 4).—This dispatch is sent at the request of the Jewish community, which fears a fresh massacre by the local garrison. It is asserted that a proclamation is being distributed in almost every regiment, calling on the soldiers to exterminate the Jews and to destroy the newspaper offices in revenge for groundless accusations against the troops of their participation in massacres and pillage in the protection of rowdies. This is inciting the population against the army. The Jews assert that the officers deliver anti-Semitic speeches in the barracks after removing the Jewish soldiers, and that Governor General Kavliars himself has confessed that the officers are burning for revenge on the Jews and that he is unable to guarantee the preservation of order.

Postal Strike in Poland.

Warsaw, Dec. 4.—Seven hundred postal and telegraph officials are on strike here. About 100 of the officials refused to join in the strike. The strikers poured vitriol in the post boxes. Two hundred bags of foreign mail are lying here unopened.

INSURANCE

Investigation May End by Close of Month Says Mr. Armstrong

ELDRIDGE TESTIFIES MONDAY

BLISS AND CORTEYOU WILL NOT BE CALLED AS WITNESSES

Attorney Hughes Reads a Mass of Correspondence Before the Committee.

New York, Dec. 4.—Senator Armstrong, chairman of the legislative insurance investigating committee, said this morning that it was the purpose of the committee to complete its labors, if possible, before the end of the month and have a report prepared for the opening day of the legislature. The committee will sit five days next week. Armstrong said the committee, if it was found necessary, could continue its labors, after January 1, without a further resolution by the legislature. Asked if it was the plan to call Cornelius N. Bliss and Postmaster General Corteyou to testify regarding moneys received from insurance companies for Republican national campaign purposes Armstrong said there was no such present intention, though if further testimony developed and it was necessary, they would be called. Armstrong said the committee did not propose to be shunted off from the purposes of the investigation by being led into other channels. "Many people would be glad to have this committee use what little time it has left by going into other matters, but we don't propose to be led away," said Armstrong, who intimated plainly that the committee did not care what became of the insurance money after it was given to the campaign managers.

George D. Elbridge, vice president and actuary of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company, was the first witness this morning. He resumed his testimony concerning delayed payments of policies.

Mr. Hughes read a mass of correspondence between the company and various attorneys for the beneficiaries of certain policy holders who had died. This correspondence showed many difficulties and delays that had taken place before the claims had been paid. Some of the letters contained threats to place the matters in the hands of the insurance department. To one of these threats counsel for the company replied in part:

"We do not fear the placing of the matter in the hands of the insurance department; but we would regret adding another burden to the office of the state superintendent with such a minor matter."

Lord, Day and Lord, counsel for Mrs. Jennie V. S. Potter, of East Saginaw, Mich., did much correspondence with the company regarding the payment of a $10,000 policy issued to Wm. F. Potter. Counsel finally placed the matter in the hands of the state superintendent of insurance. Hendricks, who replied that the company was within its rights under its constitution and by-laws, and that the courts have not passed on the matter in question. Mrs. Potter was finally paid about six months after proof of death. She received $4,785 after all assessments and liens had been taken out by the company.

NET RESULTS TO DATE.

President James W. Alexander of the Equitable, resigned, is now in a sanitarium.

Vice President James Hazen Hyde, of the Equitable, resigned, has parted with his stock, disposed of his splendid home on the South Shore of Long Island and has arranged to live in Europe.

Vice President W. H. McIntyre of the Hyde regime, is out.

Comptroller Thomas D. Jordan, of the Equitable, has vanished so far as the Legislative body is concerned. He is supposed to be somewhere in New Jersey.

President Richard A. McCurdy, of the Mutual Life, resigned, has sold his estate at Dover, N. J., and, it is said, is about to enter a sanitarium.

Son-in-law Theobald is no longer general agent of the Mutual under his former lucrative arrangement.

"Judge" Andrew Hamilton, who received $1,000,000 from the four big companies, is in exile in Europe. Andrew Fields dropped as legislative agent, and the "House of Mirth" at Albany closed.

The Democratic Policy.

At the caucus of the Democratic members of the National House of Representatives Saturday, the leadership of John Sharp Williams was fittingly recognized by according to him the unanimous nomination for speaker. By reason of the large Republican majority in the House the speakership will actually go to the choice of the members of that party, Joseph G. Cannon. Mr. Williams will, however, have certain privileges, including the naming of the minority members of the various House committees. He will also be presumed to voice the sentiment of the minority on important questions. His speech yesterday to the caucus is therefore of unusual importance. Mr. Williams outlined the Democratic policy as being opposed to ship subsidies and in favor of anti-trust and railway rate legislation. He said that he and other Democrats had been accused of following a Republican President in the matter of railway rate legislation, but declared that if a Republican President took Democratic principles there was no reason why Democrats should abandon them.

Mr. Williams is undoubtedly right in this contention. It is the duty of the Democratic members of Congress to at all times stand up for Democratic principles and to aid in securing their enactment into law whenever the opportunity offers. If at any time this should mean a support of a Republican President, or an alliance with some Republican members of Congress, the fact should not deter the achievement of a public advantage. The policy of opposing everything simply because it is advocated by the other party is neither patriotic nor statesmanlike.

Democratic members of Congress, however, should insist that when the President advocates legislation purporting to be in accord with Democratic principles such legislation shall take an effective form if it is to have their support. And when the President is content to only talk as if he believed in certain Democratic principles, but refuses to do anything to embody them in statute form, then the Democratic congressmen should make clear his shortcomings.

REV. JOS. A. BENNETT

Gives an Interesting Sermon Upon the Theme, "Gray Hairs and Don't Know It."

Those who attended the Sunday night service at the Fifth street Baptist church heard an interesting discourse by the new pastor, Rev. Jos. A. Bennett, upon the subject, "Gray Hairs and Don't Know It." Rev. Mr. Bennett chose for his text, Hosea, 7:9, "Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not." The general idea of the sermon and text, was brought out very forcibly by Rev. Mr. Bennett, as he showed the signs of decay in the life of a nation, as a church, and as individuals, these signs of decay being gray hairs. He gave an excellent picture of the natural human life, comparing it with a journey over a great hill, the earlier life representing the journey up one side of the hill, the middle life pictured as a level stretch of land from which a full view of the entire past can be gained with wisdom to help on the beginning of the downward slope, or the last years of life. Dr. Bennett's sermon was not pessimistic. He showed how this journey was made lighter by the realization of faults, "gray hairs," in order that this decaying process might be arrested to an extent and the brighter and better things be gained. Dr. Bennett is an earnest thinker, and a speaker whose words appeal to his hearers. His congregations are growing rapidly.

TERMS OF OFFICE

There are a good many inquiries as to when the terms of the newly-elected county officers will begin. The probate judge's term begins February 9, 1906. The county treasurer's term begins on the first Monday in September. The county commissioners' term begins on the third Monday in September. The infirmity director's term begins on the first Monday in September. The prosecuting attorney will begin the duties of his term on the first Monday in January. The county coroner's term begins the first Monday in January.

AN AGED PHYSICIAN

After Years of Experience Gives Us Following Advice.

"If you have anything to do with medicines at all be pretty sure you know what you are taking." Our local druggist, Frank D. Hall, says this is a strong point in favor of their valuable cod liver preparation, Vinol. Everything it contains is plainly printed on the bottle, therefore it is not a patent medicine. Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil or grease to nauseate and upset the stomach. This is the reason that Vinol accomplishes such wonderful results in curing chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung troubles, and there is nothing known to medicine that will so quickly build up the run down, overworked, tired and debilitated, or give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, as Vinol. Mrs. Martha Frazer of Portland, Me., writes: "I was all run down from overwork and had a chronic cough for years. I had tried so many remedies without help that I had lost all faith in medicine. My daughter bought me a bottle of Vinol. It simply worked wonders for me; it cured my cough and brought back health and strength and I am better than I have been for years."

PITIFUL STORY

Of Unrequited Love and Desecration by His Intended Bride Told by Young.

Dayton, Dec. 4.—Joseph D. Young, 22, a linesman, whose home is at Westerville, O., related a pitiful story of unrequited love and desecration by his intended bride at the moment the two were about to approach the altar, when he returned to the probate court Saturday, for cancellation, a license issued October 21, authorizing the marriage of Mr. Young and Miss Martha Wilke, 19, a young lady of this city. The wedding was to take place at the home of a friend of the girl, on Thanksgiving eve. Rev. C. W. Elliott, pastor of the M. E. church, had been summoned and everything pertaining to the nuptial event was in harmonious action, when the intended bride suddenly disappeared. Mr. Young has not seen the girl since.

WOMAN DIES PAUPER THOUGH VERY RICH

After Death Supposed Destitute Maid is Found to be a Wealthy Countess.

Vinenna, Dec. 4.—In the Merchants' Hospital a woman, who died of consumption and who had come a few weeks previously poorly clad and calling herself a destitute lady's maid was found after death to be Countess Bela Bathynar, nee Etelka von Tarnoczy, widow of a wealthy aristocrat. Her little bag contained her will, which entailed ten million crowns left so that they should not be divided among her heirs. The first to enjoy the estate was her sister Antoinette, an old maid. After her death her husband's relations were in turn to be the heirs. Now three nephews, Tarnoczys, and two nieces, one the Princess Adela, the other the Countess Odona, have sued the present heirs, declaring the old lady could not have been sound in mind when she made the will, and instead of dying in her home sought refuge under a false name in a charity hospital.

Members of Elks Lodge Have Died During the Past Year

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICES WERE HELD IN LODGE ROOM SUNDAY NIGHT

Hon. John C. Bassett of Zanesville Delivered the Annual Address

---Good Music.

Beautiful memorial services were held Sunday night at the Elks' lodge rooms, on the east side of the square, in memory of those members of the order who have passed to the great beyond. An excellent program, including the ritual services of the order, was carried out. Mr. W. D. Fulton, of this city, delivered the eulogy over the departed members of the lodge. Since the organization of the order in 1898, only eight members have died. Two of these were added to the list during the year of 1905, Charles C. Rankin, of this city, and Hon. Wm. E. Finck, of Somerset.

Mr. Fulton paid a beautiful tribute to each of the brothers who have passed away. He dwelt briefly on the merits of those who died previous to 1905, and spoke of those whose names have only recently been added to the roll on the marble tablet in the lodge room. Charles C. Rankin, whose death occurred in the far west, was born in Newark in 1846. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, and an officer in the National Guard in this city after the war closed. He was one of the charter members of the Lodge of Elks, and held in his esteem by his friends and acquaintances.

Hon. Wm. E. Finck, died July 28, from terrible burns, received in a gas explosion at his home in Somerset. He was born in Somerset in 1856 and the high esteem in which he was held is best known in the fact that he was elected representative from this county to the general assembly and senator from his district to congress. One of the unusual features brought out by Mr. Fulton was the fact that seven out of the eight members who have passed away, were initiated into the order on March 22, 1898, and one was taken into the lodge on March 22, 1901.

Hon. John C. Bassett, a member of the Zanesville lodge, delivered the annual memorial address. His remarks were well chosen and the speaker dwelt upon the meaning of this service to the members of the order. The music was a special feature of the service. Mrs. Charles W. Miller, Misses Florence King, Mabel Phillips, Elsie Hirschberg and Mr. W. H. Reynolds, taking part in that portion of the program. The lodge room was filled to its utmost capacity by the friends and relatives of the members of the order.

TUESDAY EVENING IN HIGH SCHOOL CHAPEL

"Prof. Baxter's Great Invention" to be Given by Members of the Senior Class.

Tuesday evening, December 5, the Seniors of the Newark High school will present to the public, the unclassified entertainment, "Prof. Baxter's Great Invention." The play has been under the supervision of Miss Florence King, and this fact in connection with the success of the same class last year in the play entitled "The Cool Collections," will surely warrant them a crowded house.

The first part of the evening the audience will be entertained by special numbers, rendered by the following favorite artists:

Miss Mary Bentze, piano solo. Miss Mabel Phillips, vocal solo. Mr. Will Reynolds, vocal solo. Mr. W. W. Nussbaum, vocal solo.

Cast of Characters. Prof. B. F. Baxter, Sherman J. Bages.

Peter Crawford, George Upson. Samuel Woolley, Julian Spear. Roxanna Tucker, Miss Alice Beckman.

Norothy Tucker, Miss Anna Davis. Mary Ann, Miss Jessie Sweeting. Reserved seats are now on sale at Herman's drug store. Admission 25 cents; no extra charge for reserved seats.

NEWARK COMPANY HAS STRUCK OIL

PROSPECTS EXCELLENT FOR BIG FLOW OF OIL ON THE PERKINS FARM.

Well Is Said To Be Better Than One on McCoy Lease, Coshocton County.

Coshocton, O., Dec. 4.—The well of the Newark Oil & Gas Co., on the Perkins farm in Washington township, was shot with nitro-glycerine Saturday, and the result was the largest flow of oil that has yet been struck in that part of the county, and the prospects are excellent for a good well. It is stated that the well is better than the well already drilled by the same company on the McCoy lease nearby, and that well was said to be good for about 10 to 20 barrels per day. There was a good-sized crowd present in spite of the rain, and the company is enthused over the results already obtained. The Washington oil field looks like a good one.

BY FIRE

Is Destroyed a Clothing Factory, With Heavy Losses.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 4.—The factory of Stahl, Urban & Company, manufacturers of workmen's clothing, was destroyed by fire. The loss to the firm is $125,000, with $69,000 insurance. The building was owned by Herman Hulman, Sr. His loss is $75,000. The fire broke out in the third floor and before an effective stream of water could be played on the building the flames had spread beyond control. The bursting of a water main left the fire department helpless, and only a favorable wind prevented the destruction of other large buildings. One of the fire department horses was killed by coming in contact with a live wire. The fire is supposed to have resulted from spontaneous combustion.

Socialists Protest.

Dresden, Dec. 4.—The Social Democrats held several largely attended meetings here to protest against the electoral law of Saxony. After the meetings the protestants paraded but the parade was interfered with by the police, who finally had to use their sabers, wounding a number of the demonstrators and making several arrests. Later there was an attempt to make a demonstration in front of the Schloss, but the crowds were dispersed at the point of the saber. Reports from Chemnitz say that several meetings here were held there in protest against the law and that the parades following the meetings were dispersed by the police, several arrests being made.

SNOWSTORM

Rages Fiercely Over Great Lakes. Derelict Ashore.

Goderich, Ont., Dec. 4.—The derelict schooner Olga, which has been floating around Lake Huron without a crew since the big storm, went ashore three miles above this place during a heavy snowstorm. Her crew left in the yawboat when the Olga broke away from the steamer Meyer on the west side of the lake. The crew were later picked up by the Meyer and the steamer Mauna Loa. The schooner rests on a sandy bottom and can be easily released if the weather remains favorable.

Steamer Aground.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—The steel freight steamer German, bound from Lake Superior to South Chicago with a cargo of iron ore, went ashore below Glenoce, 15 miles north of this city, in a blinding snowstorm. The agents of the German at Chicago sent a tug to her relief. There is little apprehension of danger to the crew of 20 men, as the wind is off shore and the vessel is sheltered by bluffs.

Woman Holds the Car.

Girard, Kan., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Ina Berry of Spokane, Wash., who has held possession of a passenger car here for two days, shooting at any one who tries to enter, is still master of the situation. On a dummy figure of a man being pushed into the car she fired a bullet into the figure's head.

Two Men Run Down.

Carbon, Ind., Dec. 4.—Harry Williams and Jack Spur were instantly killed here by a westbound Big Four passenger train. The men had taken a handcar and were on their way to Perth when they were run down.

Miners' Wages Increased.

Cumberland, Md., Dec. 4.—The Georges Creek Coal company has notified its employees of an increase of 5 cents a ton for mining coal, the increase to date from Dec. 1. This will make the price 65 cents a ton.

Flood Warning.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The weather bureau issued a special forecast announcing that flood warnings have been issued for the Ohio river at Pittsburgh, and the Roanoke and Cape Fear rivers, and that advisory notices have been sent out of a 29-foot stage in the Ohio river at Evansville, Ind., by Tuesday morning.

Prisoner Attempted Suicide.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4.—John Stevens, son of Mr. Pattie B. Stevens, attempted suicide at police headquarters after being charged with forgery. He was arrested on information furnished by Deputy Sheriff H. B. Wilson of Van Wert, O., and was found at the home of his mother, having reached here from the Ohio town. After being locked up it was discovered that he had taken a portion of a vial of laudanum, but not enough to cause his death. The bottle was concealed in his shoe.

Conspiracy Alleged.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—County Commissioner John V. Kopf, who was stabbed at the election of the Thirteenth Ward Republican club last Tuesday, died at Grace hospital. George G. Roberts, who was arrested at the time of the stabbing with the knife open in his hand, is held at the police station, no charge having been lodged against him. The friends of the dead man declare that his death is the result of a conspiracy among his political opponents in the ward club.

Association Meeting.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 4.—Joseph D. O'Brien, president of the American association, has fixed the date of Dec. 9 for the annual meeting of the association, which will be held at the Auditorium hotel, in Chicago. The election of a president and a chairman of the board of directors will be the principal business to be transacted. The indications are that O'Brien will be re-elected without opposition.

LIVERY STABLE

Will Be Built By Bradley & Graef, Who Have Bought Columbia Hotel Property.

Messrs. L. N. Bradley and C. J. Graef, who for some time past have been conducting a livery stable in the old Perry Rank building on North Fourth street, and who will be compelled to vacate the same in the spring by reason of the fact, Messrs. J. A. Chilcote and B. B. Jones, the new proprietors, will erect a fine six-story building on the location, have purchased the old Columbia Hotel property on South Fourth street, opposite the new skating rink. This property is 100x200 feet and it is the intention of Messrs. Bradley & Graef to erect one of the finest livery buildings ever built in Central Ohio. The new building, which will be located just north of the hotel will be a two-story structure, 50x200 feet, with an ell 50x100 feet. The front of this building will be of brick, while the sides and rear will be of tile. It will have a stall capacity for seventy-five horses. There will be washrooms on the first and second floors with an office in the front. It is expected that work will commence on the new building by March 1, when it will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

CLARK GOING BLIND IN INSANE ASYLUM

Sad Fate of Newark Man Who Was Well Known Figure in This City.

In an insane asylum going blind is the sad fate of poor George I. Clark, who for years was a well known figure on the streets of Newark, and who for some three years conducted the restaurant in Charles Slane's saloon. A week ago last Saturday, Mr. Clark, who has been in failing health for some time, left for Columbus, to stay with his son, I. L. Clark, at his home on East Long street. On Sunday following he was found wandering about the streets of Columbus in a dazed condition, and was taken to the police station, where he was cared for. In the meantime his son, Mr. I. L. Clark, had come over to Newark to take his father back to Columbus with him. Learning that he had already gone to Columbus he hurried back home, but nothing had been heard or seen of him. He finally found his father at the police station and took him home with him, but the old gentleman failed to recognize any of the family, and acted very queerly. Later in the week Mr. Clark was taken before the probate court and was adjudged insane and committed to the State Hospital, and it is also reported that he is going blind.

Mr. Clark's wife died about six years ago and since that time he has been rooming with his son, Elijah Clark, a well known clerk in the transportation department of the B. & O. railroad. The father and son thought a great deal of each other, and were inseparable, and when Elijah recently perceived his position and went to St. Louis to accept a position in that city, the old gentleman grieved over the separation, and it is thought the matter so preyed upon his mind as to derange it.

REV. B. M. O'BOYLAN

Approves Advocate's Position on the Wehrle Strike—Give Plant Protection.

(Communicated.)

I am sure every one was pleased with the Advocate's article in Saturday's edition on the strike question, and I trust that your reasonable, and at the same time, forcible presentation of the situation will call forth a prompt and practical response that will shape the wishes of the people into some effective method for the speedy settlement of the question at issue.

The great interests at stake should long ago have urged the people to take action and from the very beginning the company should have been practically assured that the people of Newark were not indifferent to their welfare. There should never have been any need of obliging the company to go to the extraordinary means it was forced to take if the city government had had the means of properly protecting it, and if their means were not at hand, the citizens should have guaranteed them. If proper protection had been given, in all probability, there would never have been any cause for importing either special police or detectives into our midst and, perhaps, the murders, which all must deplore, would have been avoided. On the merits of the strike it is now too late to moralize. There should never have been a strike. Pending discussion and arbitration there should be no strike. A few years ago the present writer went to a meeting held in the basement of the court house and prevented a strike by advocating this very principle, and there has never been a strike since in the great glass factory of Everett & Co.

When those who have the public weal at heart and especially those whose duty it should be to protect the interests of the people remain indifferent, it is not surprising that foolish and injurious acts are committed.

As matters stand now in the big foundry it appears to me that the proper course to pursue is entirely in the hands of those most concerned. The company knows its position better than any other party, and no one can or should dictate its policy. It has been left alone to adjust its difficulties and it now remains for the city to relieve it from the burden of keeping a police force, if it is disposed to accept the city's offer to do this in future. As far as I am concerned I only took the part that every citizen who wishes to see peace and prosperity prevail, should take, when I tried to bring about a friendly settlement; but there are principles involved now that are of more importance than that the grievances alleged to have been the cause of the strike. Whatever be the outcome of this trouble, it becomes the manifest duty of the authorities of this city to see to it that there be no further abuse of liberty and loss of life. The men at the head of this company are not foreign capitalists, but are here to stay in their native burg, where they now hold almost a third of the interests of this community. They are to the manor born, gentlemen as well as benefactors, and it is not the loss the community would suffer by their dismantling the big factory, and leaving the community that should so much concern Newark as the disgrace that would be entailed thereby. There is just one thing that hurts any thinking man to the quick in this business, and it is this: That men of such character, of such excellent and stainless lives, were obliged to protect themselves; and that there could be men base enough to threaten their lives. When these things were made known it became the duty of every man who lives or works in West Newark at least, to denounce this outrage. But, perhaps, this was done by some sinister creature unworthy of consideration. Apart from all this, it is time to call a halt. The men on the strike with whom I have spoken, in justice to them, I must say, have declared that these things were shocking to them and greatly injured them. I'm glad to be able to say this, and it is my earnest prayer that there will yet be a reconciliation effected, based on honor, justice and manly friendship that will yet cement the union of the company and their men, which will insure the permanent peace and prosperity of both, as well as of the people in general.

ELLOR IS GIVEN GOOD POSITION

ON STANTON'S MYTHICAL ALL OHIO ELEVEN-DENISON MEN ON SECOND ELEVEN.

All "Big Six" Eleven Is Wisely Chosen With Parratt, of Case, at Quarter.

BY FRANK STANTON. (Coach at Denison University.) In selecting an all "Big Six" team for the season just ending there is not much question about the end positions. Brandt, of Case, is probably the star of the year with Reemsnyder, of O. S. U., a close second. They are both fast and sure, which are essential elements in the end positions. Swift and Brindle are rather light for the tackle positions, but make the best combinations that can be drawn from these six teams. I believe Brindle would make a more effective halfback, but on account of a lack of tackle material we placed him in the line.

Bradford, of Case, stands out as a star in the guard position. He is aggressive and a power both on offense and defense. For his mate I have chosen Dooman, of Kenyon, who is aggressive and shifty and seems to be well coached in his position.

There seems to be but one man for center and that is Captain Hoyer, of O. S. U. He is good and probably has no close rival in the state. Star quarterbacks are missing this year, although there are two or three that are good. Parratt, of Case, I believe is the most consistent player and best field general in the state. He steadies his team and runs his plays with good judgment. I consider Baker, of Case, a star halfback, and to him I would give the captaincy of the team. Kirby, of O. S. U., I would pick as a mate of Baker. Kirby is heavy and aggressive, and is fast for a heavy man.

Those I have placed on the second team who deserve special mention, are, Scott, of Reserve; Reising, of Kenyon; Rike, of O. W. U., and Clark, of Case. Reising is a shifty little quarter and gained a good many yards for Kenyon on his quarterback plays. Rike has been out of condition but still plays a good game. Clark is an aggressive man and a good ground-gainer.

In choosing an all-Ohio team I pick the same team as for the all-"Big Six" team with two or three changes. I place Evans, of Heidelberg, as a guard in Dooman's place. Although Evans has not been a market star this year, I believe he would be an able and powerful guard and a close rival to Bradford. I consider Ellor, of Denison, the star tackle of the state, and no one who has seen him play will doubt his ability as a tackle in any part of the game. I place Ellor in Brindle's place and place Brindle by the side of Baker at half. I can see no one outside of the "Big Six" who could crowd Rowitt from the fullback position.

In choosing the second eleven it becomes even more difficult than in choosing the first. There seems to be so many good men in about the same class. There are a number of good men left who have not been placed on either team who should have some mention. They are Walling, of Case; Waters, of Oberlin; Lloyd, of Wooster; Van Sickles, of Otterbein; Adams and Colwell, of Cincinnati; and Black, of Otterbein.

COACH SWEETLAND HAS HIS TROUBLES

O. S. U. Dissatisfied With Eleven This Year and Board Wants Sweetland's Scalp. Coach Sweetland of Ohio State is about to be dethroned. There is some dissatisfaction among the members of the athletic board over the results of Sweetland's coaching. The only real kick which is forthcoming is that Ohio State has not produced a championship team this year and the feeling exists there that a coach who can not produce a championship team is a little off color.

Not since Dr. John Eckstorm directed the squad four years ago, has there been a bona fide championship team at O. S. U., and it hurts the school to think of such a disgrace.

Players on the Ohio State team are divided somewhat as to the wisdom of having a change in coaches before next year's football work is taken up. While no one seems to be outspoken for a continuation of the present policy, there are those who have adopted that old political cry "let well enough alone."

"I think," said one brilliant player yesterday, "that it would be best to retain Coach Sweetland unless there is good reason to believe that a more capable man could be secured."

An hour later another State player, one who has more or less reason for a grievance, came along to say that he thought a change was absolutely necessary.

Speaking from a Fourth Eater's position it can be frankly said that next year's Ohio State coach ought to be a man of great dimensions, when measured with a sportsman's rule, and one who does not continually cling to the opinion that the whole world is against him.

CYCLE RACE STARTS.

New York, Dec. 4.—Sixteen teams of cyclists, the pick of European and American experts, are whirling around the highly banked track in Madison Square Garden in the 13th annual six day contest. From the moment the long grind was begun, shortly after midnight, this morning, there was only one pair who fell back while the other fifteen teams kept well together. The negro riders, Dove and Scott, who make up the Afro-American team, lost five laps during the first seven hours of the contest. There were several bad spills during the early morning hours, in at least five of which Jean Gougoltz, of Switzerland, figured.

The score at noon today stood 245 miles for all the teams.

A GOOD RESOLVE.

Newark Lawyer Sets Example That Others Smokers Would Do Well to Follow.

One of our most prominent lawyers has made a resolution that he recommends to other smokers, without asking any fee.

For years he has been smoking ten cent and fifteen cent cigars and often without getting one that was satisfactory. When in J. W. Collins & Sons store a month ago, they recommended a 5c cigar, Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos, and the result is that he has resolved to buy no other cigar, for he knows that he is getting a better cigar than he has heretofore bought.

Other smokers should follow the example. The Wadsworth Bros.' Chicos is made from the best Havana tobacco, not flavored or doctored in any way, and is better than cigars that are usually retailed for double the money. Drop in at J. W. Collins & Sons today and get a Chico.

MORE PUNTING AND DROP KICKS

WITH PLENTY OF END RUNS WILL REVOLUTIONIZE FOOTBALL.

Says Edward R. Bushnell in an Excellent Article on the Evils of the Game.

Edward R. Bushnell, a well known Eastern football authority writes an exhaustive article on the recent reform movement regarding football evils. He offers various suggestions to prevent the abolition of the game and feels that it will never be abolished if the people are allowed to voice their sentiments. His article is in part as follows:

Philadelphia, December 4.—The war on football has at last begun in the east, and with a vengeance that seriously threatens the complete annihilation of the sport in the university world. At the first blow the sport has been abolished at Columbia and New York universities, and it is not unlikely that several other institutions will follow the lead of the New Yorkers and forbid the playing of the game, at least under the present rules. This is the first time that the educational authorities of the big universities have called a halt on the athletic authorities and taken the situation into their own hands. This climax is the natural result of the campaign which has been waged against the game all fall, and the agitation has been fanned into a flame by the extraordinary large number of injuries which have marked the game all season and the fatal accidents of the season's final week.

But in spite of all the hue and cry which is being raised against the uselessness and brutality of the game, it may be accepted without question that the sport will survive. The result of all this agitation will be merely the making of changes in the rules. The inter-collegiate rules committee which, for a number of years, has defied college and public sentiment by refusing to make any radical changes in the rules, will be compelled to act this time, and in a radical manner, or resign. The members of the committee have at last come to realize this, and they may be expected to be more considerate of the college world's wishes this time.

Several of the universities, principally Harvard, have begun separate investigations into the conditions of the game. The object of these investigations, especially at Harvard, has been to formulate certain demands for reforms and to insist upon their adoption or forbid the sport at Cambridge.

Just what change will be made can only be conjectured at this time, but there are certain points on which the committeemen seem to be unanimous. These are:

First—The provision for heavier penalties to prevent unnecessarily rough and brutal football.

Second—The provision to compel more punting, drop and place kicking.

Third—The opening up of the game with end runs and the reduction in the number of mass formations.

Fourth—The abolition of the practice of "piling up" on a player who is tackled.

Just how all these reforms can be brought about is not known at present. Nearly every football coach in the country has his own peculiar views on this point. Furthermore, few of them agree on the question. For instance, Walter Camp, of Yale, and Coach Warner of Cornell, believe that a rule should be adopted to compel a team to gain ten yards in three downs instead of five as at present. This, they say, would compel the opening up of the game and the lessening of the mass plays, which they charge with responsibility for most of the injuries produced by the game.

Dr. Carl Williams and George Brooke, of the University of Pennsylvania, contend that the majority of football injuries are the result of so-called "open plays," and that the mass plays are not nearly so dangerous. And Pennsylvania's experience seems to bear out the contention of her coaches. This year there have been more accidents in football at Pennsylvania than at any other time. All told four men were put out of the game with broken bones, and in every instance the accident was the result of end runs. Not a solitary injury of any consequence resulted from the much-abused mass formations.

When a runner going at great speed is met by two or three tacklers in the open field, and then more pile up on him as he is falling, he is in great danger of having one or more of his bones broken.

Dr. Carl Williams has made a novel suggestion, which, if followed, ought to reduce and eliminate foul playing. His suggestion is that when a man is ruled off for foul play he be kept on the side lines for the rest of this half, and the team be penalized by being compelled to finish the half without a substitute. He further suggests that when a player is ruled off a second time for the same offense he be disqualified for the rest of the season.

A remedy which appeals with great force to the writer is one which is employed by the Canadian lacrosse teams for checking unfair play. In Canada, the referee of a lacrosse match is empowered to send such guilty players from the field and no substitutes are allowed to take their places. It is very seldom that a player is ruled off for an entire half, but many are kept on the side lines for five or ten minutes, according to the gravity of their offense. Sometimes there are as many as two and three players from one side off the field at the same time. If such rules were applied to football it would stamp out rowdy football in a hurry. If a player knew he would cripple his team by resorting to unfair tactics he would make every effort to control his temper.

If such a rule as this were adopted there would have to be a set of impartial officials who could not be accused of bearing a grudge against any of the players or either team. In other words, there would have to be a meeting of the leading universities of the West to select a body of capable officials who should be sent around on a circuit in the same manner that the National and American League baseball umpires are.

The action of Columbia university in abolishing the game without giving its sponsors a chance to correct its evils has not been approved either by the Eastern or Western universities. Defenders of the game insist that it is foolish to think that it can be abolished thus easily. The game has too many good qualities to be abandoned without an effort to reform it. Even President Eliot, of Harvard, who has always opposed the game, is not ready to take such radical action as that taken by Columbia. Some of the Eastern critics think that Columbia's repeated failure to turn out a winning team had something to do with her readiness to drop the game now. Furthermore, it is believed that when the rules committee has reformed the game in accordance with its present intentions, Columbia will be willing to once more enter the field.

The game never had such a hold on the public as this fall. This has been proven when 48,000 persons fall over themselves to pay $2 a head to see the Harvard-Yale game, and some paid many times this amount to speculate with choice seats. The same record-breaking crowds have been in attendance at all the other big games of the East. Certainly when a game is this popular it is bound to survive the clamor of those in authority against it.

One of the sanest criticisms against the game was that made recently by President Jordan, of Leland Stanford university. His contention was that the game should be abolished among the schools, alleging that it was among these players and others not trained to the game that the principal injuries occurred.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp-antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Manner, of the Maryland Hotel, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal coat of hair. DAWES SEEMS TO HAVE INSIDE TRACK

Washington, Dec. 4.—Ohio had a full attendance in the House and Senate today. Interest among the House members centers in the drawing of seats and committee assignments. The vacancy on the interstate commerce commission is the prize, and B. G. Dawes, of Marietta, formerly of Newark, appears to have the inside track among the new members. Grosvenor will retain the chairmanship of the merchant marine and Burton of the rivers and harbor committee.

WOMAN SHOT.

Husband Summons Assistance and Then Disappears.

New York, Dec. 4.—Roy A. Miller, a telephone superintendent in an uptown hotel, aroused the occupants of the apartment house where he lived in East Forty-third street by shouting that some one had been shot. Horace Heiden, living in the adjoining apartment, rushed out and followed Miller to the latter's dining room, where a woman, supposed to be Miller's wife, fully dressed and unconscious, lay upon the floor. Miller fell to his knees and begged her to say she had shot herself, but there was no response. Heiden hurried out for help. Returning a few minutes later with a policeman and a doctor, he found the woman dead and Miller gone. Neighbors of the Millers heard no gunshot and did they hear the report of the pistol. There were no signs of a struggle. The woman's clothing was covered by the flash of powder, but the police say there was no trace of powder on her person. The pistol lay on the bed in the floor, one chamber empty.

The newspapers were filled and four mortally injured in Boston tunnel, near New York. Struck by an Erie train.

DRY LAND FARMS PROVE A SUCCESS

Demonstrations May Be Continued at New Stations on Great Northern Railroad Line.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 4.—Director F. B. Linfield is here to confer with Industrial Agent Costello of the Great Northern, and as a result it is expected several dry land farms will be established along the line of that road, similar to those so successfully operated this year in Northern Pacific territory.

Linfield has been assured by the Great Northern that the company will make a contribution, probably of the same amount given by the Northern Pacific, $3,000, and stations may be established at Cutbank, Havre, Chinook, Malta and Buford.

"The Northern Pacific has promised to make another contribution of $3,000," said Mr. Linfield, "and with the aid expected from the Great Northern we will be enabled to engage Professor W. W. McLaughlin of Utah, one of the best men on that sort of work. Experiments in Northern Montana will be conducted on a large scale."

"I hope to have one or more farms of at least 100 acres so that an extensive study work can be made and an excellent opportunity given farmers to see what can be done in the way of raising crops without irrigation."

Dry land farming is regarded in many quarters as an issue secondary not even to irrigation, especially in view of results obtained this year.

NEWS OF OHIO

Embezzlement Charged.

Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—Charles M. Gardner, national president of the Colonial Insurance union, with headquarters at Toledo, was arrested here by the police, assisted by a Toledo detective, on the charge of embezzlement. The charge is preferred through the attorney general's department on complaint of Superintendent of Insurance Arthur I. Vorvys. The amount alleged to have been embezzled is $300. It is said that Gardner has been in Elyria, O. He was also connected with the Colonial Insurance union of Indiana, now in the hands of a receiver. Assistant Attorney General Mauck had charge of the case, and it is understood that he will go into court this week and ask that a receiver be appointed for the Toledo company.

Killed While Hunting.

Bellefontaine, O., Dec. 4.—Glen Shafer, 19, was shot and instantly killed by his friend, Harry Repregel, 17, while hunting. The boys, accompanied by Jefferson Shafer, father of the dead boy, and William Cockrell, had been hunting without any luck, and they decided to fire at a mark. The Repregel boy was about to take aim at a telephone pole when the elder Shafer suggested another object, and Repregel turned about and fired without noticing Glen Shafer. The contents of the gun entered Shafer's heart. After assisting the dead boy's father to place the body in a buggy Repregel ran all the way to this city and surrendered himself to the police.

Jumped Into the River.

Steubenville, O., Dec. 4.—Saddened and disheartened because his brother, William Marshall, was killed by the railroad cars last Sunday, Joseph Marshall, a younger brother, sought death in the river. The brothers were bachelors and inseparable. Their only relatives are in Wheeling. Joseph Marshall had been threatening suicide for several days. His body has not yet been recovered from the river.

Deacon Confessed.

Marysville, O., Dec. 4.—B. W. Converse, a farmer and deacon of the Methodist church at Unionville Center, this county, was arrested by Panhandle railroad detectives of Columbus on the charge of stealing large quantities of coal at various times from Panhandle trains. He was taken to Milford Center, arraigned before Mayor Wills, pleaded guilty and was fined $56.

Dean Williams Accepts.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 4.—Very Rev. Charles D. Williams, D. D., dean of Trinity Protestant Episcopal cathedral in this city, who was recently elected bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Detroit, made public announcement to the congregation at Trinity cathedral that he would accept the position. Dean Williams will not be consecrated bishop for several months.

Ohio Mayors at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 4.—Eighty mayors of Ohio cities and villages are in this city to attend the nonpartisan conference called by Mayor Tom L. Johnson. The central topic to be considered will be a less complicated form of government for the smaller municipalities. The mayors say the form given them by the present code is cumbersome.

Rifle Range on Roof.

A London firm has constructed on the roof of its warehouses a rifle range so that its employees may have practice without going far or being put to traveling expense. Lord Roberts will open the range.

WEDDINGS.

PALMER-DEEDS.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride near Outville Thanksgiving evening. The contracting parties were Mr. Lee B. Palmer, a prosperous young farmer near Pataskala, son of William Palmer, and Miss Traverse Deeds, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Deeds. The bride was very prettily attired in white. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. K. McCall, and was witnessed by the members of both families and intimate connections. After the ceremony the guests were invited to the dining room of the hospitable home where an elegant supper was served. After a short trip to the southern part of the state Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will be at home to their friends in the new residence, the groom has recently erected near Pataskala. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received by the newly wedded couple.

BOOHER-WILSON.

Miss Grace Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, and Mr. Howard Booher, a valued employee of the Everett company, were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. T. A. Cosgrove at the manse. Mr. and Mrs. Booher will reside in the city.

A BOOK

Is the easiest solution of the Christmas problem. No field offers such an infinite variety of holiday gifts. There are few people who would not appreciate the gift of a book. The millionaire banker or your errand boy may be depended upon to be pleased when he finds it is a book that has been given. Come to us, then, when you want something that you know will be the right thing in the right place. We make it our business to search out the best and to offer it at the lowest price. Our business has grown right along each year. People no longer "send off" for books as they used to. They know they will find the good things and at the right price at Edmiston's Book Store. We can only name a few of them here: "The Spirit of Christmas," Dr. Van Dyke's most loving and beautiful expression of the Christmas Spirit, only 75c. Our Neighbors, Gibsons last and best book of drawings, $4.20. Animal Heroes, by Ernest Thompson Seton. His latest, equally enjoyable for old or young, artistically illustrated. The story of the Champions of the Round Table, by Howard Pyle, $2.50. Songs of Cheer, by Riley, one hundred Hoosier pictures; his latest production, The Conquest of Canaan, by Booth Tarkington, $1.50; our price $1.08. The Gambler, by Katherine Cecil Thurston, $1.50; our price $1.08. Queen Zixi of Ix, by I. Frank Baum, a book to make any child happy. Brevet Harte, His Letters, handsomely illustrated, in a box, $2.00. Eben Holden, with Newark pictures by Clarence White, and hundreds of others, selected with the greatest care. Three words more—DO IT NOW.

SEED DEALERS

Protest Against Free Distribution by Federal Government—Appeal Made to President.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Thirty of the leading seed dealers of the country have sent President Roosevelt a petition protesting against the free distribution of seeds by members of congress and urging him to include in his message a paragraph disapproving the present practice and recommending that only the intent of the original act authorizing seed distribution be the future policy. This intent, the petition says, was that the seeds should be obtained from remote corners of the earth and be unknown to the people of this country and be for the purpose of increasing the wealth of the nation. The petitioners allege that the present practice is a "gross and serious restraint of trade."

Eczema, scald head, bites, itchiness of the skin of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured. Dean's Ointment. At any drug store.

WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 4.—The Legislature convened in special session this afternoon pursuant to a call of Governor LaFollette. The impression prevails that the session is largely political and has to deal with the plans of LaFollette with respect to the United States senatorship.

A report that the Stewart senators may not participate in the proceedings of the special session, unless the governor declares his intentions relative to the senatorship is not taken seriously.

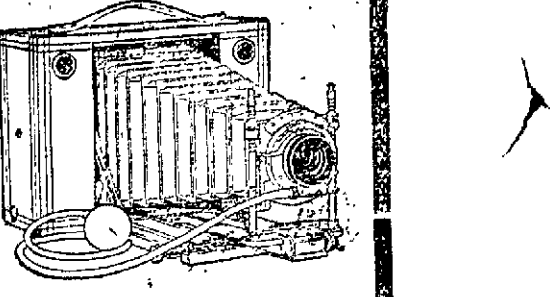

The opinion of all is that unless the recommendations of the governor are carried out he will decline the senatorship and go before the people again as a candidate for governor next year.

Long-Lived Family.

Long life appears to be hereditary in one family in Tiflis, in the Caucasus. It consists of five members whose combined age is 290 years. The father is now 105 years old, the mother is 95, and there are three sons all more than 60.

Former Granville Student in Sunday School Work—Wants State Lease.

Columbus, O. Dec. 4.—Caleb L. McKee & Co., brokers, say: "Bids of 99 failed to bring out any Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark preferred stock and offerings were firm at 100 and limited as to quantity. The earnings of the property continue very large and the upward movement in this issue is by no means over."

Former Granville Student.
Columbus, Dec. 4.—C. W. Shinn, who came to Columbus last February to work the Sunday school association as resident field worker, has been selected by the executive committee of the Cuyahoga county Sunday school association to act as general secretary of Cleveland and Cuyahoga county.

This position is one of three of a similar kind in Ohio. The field work was begun in Cleveland three years ago and until September 1, A. H. Gross was the secretary.

Mr. Shinn is a young man and came to Columbus from Denison university at Granville, where he graduated two years ago.

Wants Buckeye Lake Lease.
Columbus, O. Dec. 4.—Geo. Boyer, of Bucyrus, has filed an application with the state canal commissioners for the lease of a strip of land on the Licking reservoir for boat landing and cottage purposes.

In Newark Guest's Honor.
Coshocton, Dec. 4.—Miss Edith McNary entertained Friday evening with a Salamagundi party in honor of her sister, Miss Blanch Black, of Newark. The guests included about thirty friends.

Granville News Items.
Granville, Dec. 4.—On Friday evening December 1, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Case entertained a few friends in honor of Mrs. Zella Dixon, who is spending the week in Granville. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Biddle of Cincinnati, were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Case on this occasion. Mrs. Biddle was formerly Miss Ida McKibben of Y. L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Williams of Morgan county, O., who have been spending a few days with friends in Granville and vicinity, have returned home.

Cottage Warming at Lake.
Buckeye Lake, Dec. 4.—This place was the scene of a very pleasant house warming Saturday afternoon and evening when the elegant cottage belonging to William Whitestein, was opened to a few of his friends. Mr. Whitestein is connected with the physiology department of the Ohio State university, and has just completed a handsome six room cottage adjoining the park. At 2:30 p. m. Saturday a special car arrived with Prof. N. W. Lord, Dr. Blilie, Dr. D. S. White, Prof. Bradford, Prof. Kaufmann, Dr. Brumley and Mr. Stebe, secretary, all members of the O. S. U. faculty, on board. At 5 p. m. after an extended view of various parts of the lake the party with Jas. Fivecoats, Ed. S. Grandstaff and the host, sat down to an elegant feast. Dr. Blilie acted as toastmaster and for more than three hours wit and oratory held sway, after which the party boarded their special and returned to Columbus.

Notwithstanding the rain every member of the party expressed his admiration for the beauties of the lake and its surroundings and surprise at the great improvements that have been made in the last year.

Operation at Zanesville.
Zanesville, O., Dec. 4.—W. H. Brown was operated on at the City Hospital for appendicitis Sunday. Mr. Brown is one of the wealthiest residents of Caldwell. He was stricken by an attack of acute appendicitis on Saturday night, and was brought to this city on a special train over the Ohio river and Western railroad. His condition is favorable.

Has Acquired Riches.
Delaware, O., Dec. 4.—W. F. Hill of Seward, Alaska, who left his home 47 years ago after a quarrel, was for the first time Sunday reunited with his family. Hill has toured the globe since his absence from here. A message was sent Hill telling him that his sister, Mrs. Alex Newhouse, of this county, is his only surviving relative. Hill has acquired great wealth and returns to the scenes of his boyhood.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas common "remedies" made with mercury merely drive them out and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real cure, not a delusion. All druggists, 54c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York. mw14f

TIME TO ACT IN WEHRLE STRIKE

ADVOCATE'S ARTICLE SATURDAY RECEIVED WITH FAVOR IN NEWARK.

Company Declines to Discuss Reported Offer Made by Cleveland Land Company.

The Advocate's article of Saturday evening on the Wehrle strike situation was read with great interest throughout the city, if one may judge from the favorable comment that has been made in all sections of the town, especially among the business men.

The members of the Wehrle company still decline to talk of the offer that has been made by a Cleveland land company to take the big foundry to the city by the Lake, but the Advocate has it on splendid authority that a tempting offer has been made. Some are inclined to think that this offer is a mere "bluff" but it is possible that the truth of the report may develop after it is too late.

Why shouldn't such a rich land company owning a large tract of undeveloped land near a great city be willing to pay handsomely for a factory employing 2,500 men? Wouldn't it be a good investment? Who is there to criticize the Wehrle company for considering such an offer in view of the trials it has encountered in the past six months in Newark?

This is a serious proposition and it is worth considering well. The Advocate does not say that the Wehrle company is going to leave town, the Wehrle company does not say so, but this paper does say that if things continue as they have in the past few months, there is grave danger that Newark will lose its greatest industry.

As to the merits of the questions at issue between the company and the polishers, the Advocate has nothing to say. That is a matter between the parties interested but the Advocate feels it a duty to do what it can to see that the strike is either settled or continued in a peaceable manner. There has been enough bloodshed and enough of murder.

The city of Newark should give the plant adequate protection and at once.

Under all circumstances law and order should prevail.

Leaders among the striking polishers condemn the acts of violence that have already been committed and approve a peaceful solution of the trouble, which by the way does not involve the question of wages.

It is time for the people of Newark to be aroused to their own interests: it is time for Newark to realize the gravity of the situation; it is time to do something to adjust and settle the trouble in some amicable and practical manner.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT GRATIOT SAW MILL

Frank Yearly Thrown a Distance of Ten Feet and Seriously Injured on the Head.

While employed in a saw mill two miles north of Gratiot, Frank Yearly on Friday evening suffered a painful accident. He was thrown by a rope from block and tackle a distance of ten feet, alighting on a log, in this manner receiving a painful bruise on the head.

At first it was thought Yearly had sustained a fracture of his skull, but examinations by Dr. Evans, of Mt. Sterling, discovered only a very severe bruise.

Yearly was cared for at the home of George Barnett, near the sawmill. Late Sunday night he was resting easy and will on Monday be removed to his own home. The victim was unconscious for a short time after the accident.

Body's pain loses its terror if you've a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house. Instant relief in cases of burns, cuts, sprains, accidents of any sort.
